At A New Tomorrow, we take clients' rights, responsibilities, and wellbeing as a high priority. To ensure clients' have an understanding of all of their rights and expectations of the practice a client handbook has been given to each new client upon admission to the program. It is very important that clients understand the information provided, so if there are any questions that arise from the Client Handbook, we ask that you please ask any member of our staff for further clarification.

I, _____ acknowledge that I have received a copy of the client handbook and understand the contents of it.
